Why native plants?

Native plants have evolved to thrive in our local climate. They require less water and less maintenance than many of our introduced ornamental plants while also providing the specialized food, shelter, and other resources that our native pollinators and wildlife need to survive.

Native plants are beautiful!

There is an abundant selection of spectacular native plants waiting for you to discover their beauty. With colours, textures, shapes, and sizes of every kind, there are native plant options for every garden.
